Volunteer for 14 years

Children's Hospital New Orleans

My favorite memory volunteering

Journeying with a strong, faith-filled family with a son who fought and survived a life-threatening, rare infection in the PICU. After he overcame all the medical and scientific odds, I was privileged to assist at his first Holy Communion.

My inspiration to volunteer

I was hoping I could share a little joy, peace and hope to families who were hurting physically, emotionally and/or spiritually. I pray that God will embrace families with his healing touch, and bring his peace, the peace which surpasses all human understanding, to the sick children, their families, and their loved ones.

My favorite part of volunteering

Meeting wonderful families who share a deep faith and loving bond with one another despite not feeling well and being anxious. Witnessing miraculous moments, a child's smile, and a loving embrace.

My little something extra

My mantra is "faith, family, football and foodie"!

Why I'm extra-ordinary

I'm just an ordinary person trying to be a small part of an extra-ordinary, healing place! Doing small things with great love.
